Workshop Description

Long-term bullying is associated with a variety of adverse consequences including depression, anxiety & diminished academic achievement. Bullying interventions & strategies are imperative for creating healthy environments in which youth can flourish. We will discuss the importance of prevention, research based interventions & techniques to address bullying. We also will discuss the importance of providing trauma informed care as a prevention and responsive measure. Participants will interact, engage & learn new tools to implement at home or in your educational programs to help shift the culture.

Three Ways to Register by Thursday, February 20th

- Mail $5 check or money order, payable to Blessed Be Educators, or cash to Mary Ann Hvizdos, 825 Mifflin Ave., Pgh 15221. Include name, parish or professional affiliation & phone number or email (important if we need to cancel due to weather). Please print clearly.
- Some member congregations have a Blessed Be Educators or a Faith-Based Health Collaborative representative who will register you & collect money.
